HAND-PAINTED COFFINS AND URNS

Magnolia

A gentle celebration of life that combines the natural grain of wood with blossoming magnolia branches.

The Magnolia motif was created as a calm, airy composition. The branches wrap around the shape of the coffin and each flower is painted by hand so that the whole looks natural from every point of view. Pink and cream shades make the grain of the wood stand out. The result is a personal original, which can be an inspiration for the form of a painting tailored to a specific life story.

Indigo folk art

White-blue painting inspired by traditional folk ornament.

The deep blue and white ornaments are based on a traditional blueprint. Symmetrical flowers, hearts, birds and small folk elements develop over the lid and front of the coffin and look clean and distinct on the light background. Each painting is created as an original. This project can be the inspiration for a personal motif created around memories, places and symbols that have real...

Heart in bloom

The airy heart made of twigs is complemented by a small coral pink bouquet and a few delicate gold touches.

The motif concentrates several larger flowers in one place and the rest of the heart leads with a light twig. A simple composition can be adapted to favorite flowers and personal colors.

Floral haze

A pastel mist of tiny flowers starts at the forehead, gently passes over the edge of the lid and gradually disappears. Most of the coffin remains calm and clean.

Tiny lilac, pink and misty blue flowers form a soft hand-painted transition at one end only. The asymmetric placement leaves a large part of the cream surface completely free.

Lilies

Soft green casket with hand painted white and pink lilies.

White and pale pink lilies develop on a muted green background. Flowers pass through the lid and sides of the coffin and are complemented by delicate green ornamental lines. Lilies can symbolize purity, reverence and a peaceful farewell. Each hand painting is an original and the motif can be further developed personally according to the family's memories and wishes.

Heart and lilies

Soft pink motif with lilies growing from the heart.

Green stems with pink lilies develop on a soft pink background. Flowers growing from the heart connect the motif of love, tenderness and memory that continues on. Each painting is created as an original. This project can be the inspiration for a personal motif created around memories, places and symbols that have real meaning for the family.

Mountains

Mountain landscape with forest, fog and calm natural tones.

A mountain landscape opens up on a light background with tall spruce trees, distant peaks and fine mist. Muted green, gray and golden tones create a calm image of nature and space. Each painting is created as an original. This project can be the inspiration for a personal motif created around memories, places and symbols that have real meaning for the family.

Robin

A blue coffin on which branches, rowan trees and robins connect across the lid and side walls.

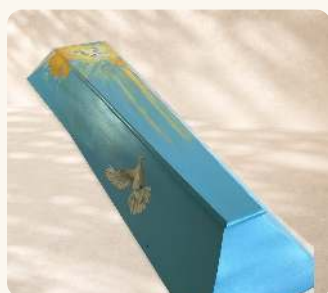

The painting does not appear as several separate decorations. The branch grows from the forehead, continues over the lid and passes to the sides, so that the motif continues when viewed from different sides and the coffin is read as one unit. Robins appear among the branches at various moments of movement. Deep blues, warm brown strokes, and red berries work together to create a...

Doves

A light blue coffin with a white dove and soft golden clouds.

On a light blue background, a white dove floats between soft golden clouds. Open wings, soft light and airy brushstrokes give the painting a sense of calm, lightness and quiet transition. Each painting is created as an original. This project can be the inspiration for a personal motif created around memories, places and symbols that have real meaning for the family.

Sakura

A white coffin with tender branches and blossoming sakura flowers.

A blossoming sakura branch grows on a light background. Pink flowers and delicate buds bring lightness, calmness and a memory of a new beginning to the painting. Each painting is created as an original. This project can be the inspiration for a personal motif created around memories, places and symbols that have real meaning for the family.

Deer in the forest

Tranquil forest landscape with deer, trees and mountain sky.

A quiet forest landscape with tree silhouettes, deer and other animals unfolds around the coffin. Soft blue clouds, birds and distant treetops create a tranquil panoramic scene with depth and space. Each painting is created as an original. This project can be the inspiration for a personal motif created around memories, places and symbols that have real meaning for the family.

Solid-colour coffin

Each casket can be dyed in the shade of your choice — from subtle light tones to bold and deep colors.

The color of the coffin does not have to be given in advance. Together we will choose any shade according to your wishes — a favorite color, a soft tone in harmony with flowers or a more expressive color associated with personality and memories. The monochrome design can be kept clean and simple, or it can be complemented with a floral wreath, ribbon or other personal decoration. The...

Feathers in blue

Airy blue feathers, slender stems and tiny golden glints pass along the side of the pure ivory casket. Both the forehead and the lid remain calm and without painting.

The painting is concentrated only on the side surface and works with a muted blue that feels fresh and yet very calm. The color and range of the feather motif can be adjusted according to personal wishes. The front of the casket always remains clean.

Blue birds

Three tiny blue birds sit calmly spaced on a thin branch. A few translucent leaves complement the misty blue design of the coffin.

The birds have a fine hand-painted texture and each one is shot a little differently. Sparse leaves and large empty areas maintain a calm, uncrowded composition.

Every life has its own story.

A hand-painted coffin can carry colours, flowers, a landscape or a small symbol that recalls a person and their life.

Mirka Kosečková's Hand-painted Coffin project offers a more personal form of farewell. Every motif is painted sensitively by hand and created according to the family's wishes. You can choose from finished originals in stock or we can create a custom painting together.
